Club Organizes In Kent, Wash.

E. I. Rand, Tacoma, Wash., American Numismatic Association chairman for National Coin Week, was the guest at the organization meeting of the Green River Coin Club at Kent, Washington, this month.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Lowe, charter members of the club and Tacoma coin dealers, assisted Rand in the formation of the new club.

Tom J. Coen is president; Mrs. John R. Flemming, secretary, and E. W. Manning, treasurer.

Meetings are to be held the first Friday of each month in the Junior Chamber of Commerce hall at 8 p.m.

The club is dedicated to encourage and promote the science of numismatics by the acquirement and study of coins, paper money and medals, to cultivate fraternal relations among collectors and students.

Members hope to encourage and assist new collectors, foster the interest of youth in the subject and to demonstrate that numismatics is an educational and entertaining pursuit.

Willmar Club Forms

Members of the Willmar (Minn.) Coin Club have lost no time swinging into activity although the organization is only one month old.

Organized in March, members held an auction and traded coins at the April session, held at the First Federal Savings and Loan Association building in Willmar.

John Holm, of Atwater, is the chairman. John E. Erickson, of Murdock, presented the club's by-laws.

Bank Of England Issues New Size Notes

One Pound Note First To Portray British Monarch

The Bank of England released the first of four new banknotes March 17 portraying the Queen for the first time on British paper money.

The notes are a new size—narrower but of the same length as currency presently in circulation.

Completely redesigned, both obverse and reverse, the one pound notes are the first to be released. Other denominations in the entirely new series will include: the 10 shilling, the five pound and the 10 pound notes.

Queen Elizabeth, who is pictured on the new paper money, is the first British monarch to be portrayed on Bank of England currency. Previous banknotes featured geometrical designs with a small vignette of Britannia.

Once however, during World War I, King George V was portrayed on United Kingdom notes.

The new size, which is nearly the same as U. S. currency, has met with almost complete acceptance with the British people. The new notes measure 5 1/2 by 2 3/4 inches. Older notes were a half inch wider.

The paper is new too. It contains not one watermark, as in previous banknotes, but a "row of heads" running up the left end when looking at the obverse side of the bill.

In addition, the paper contains a distinctive metal filament embedded in the paper. It is located just to the left of the Queen's portrait and runs the full vertical width of the bill.

Serial numbers appear in opposite corners from the previous issues, causing somewhat of an unfavorable reaction from British bank clerks. They were accustomed to holding the left side of a stack of notes with the left hand while flipping with their right hand.

Now they have to hold the right-hand side with their right hand and flip with the left hand—an awkward position to all but left-handed people.

"The new position will double our work," declared Edgar Bell, president of the National Union of Bank Employees, commenting on

Iowa Assn. Plans Gold Exhibit May 22

There will be a gold exhibit May 22 by the North Central Iowa Numismatic Association, Clarion, Iowa. Other clubs in their area include Mason City, Iowa and Humboldt, Iowa.

Stamp collectors were special guests at the April 25 meeting. The club publishes a bulletin occasionally. Afternoon meetings are held during the busy part of the year. The club meets once each month at 8 p.m. otherwise, at Gannon's Party room, at the Hotel Moore, Clarion, Iowa.

The club is working on more publicity and is searching out new collectors. There are 30 members at present and 30 junior members. It was established in October, 1957.

Melvin Seifert is publicity director. There was a recent display, on a large scale, of gold and currency, by the club.

B. C. Cannon, Clarion, is director; Melvin Seifert, Clarion, is director; and Donald Watts, Clarion is secretary-treasurer.

the new serial number position.

A spokesman for the Bank of England said: "The change in the position of serial numbers was made to fit in with the artistic design of the notes."

The artistic design has caused some derogatory comment in the British newspapers—few people like the design but most everyone likes the new size.

Counterfeiters are going to play hob duplicating the new notes. In addition to high quality paper with the "row of heads" watermark and the embedded metal filament, the notes are printed in multi colors.

The overall color on both sides is green, however the obverse has violet, sky blue, and brown inks intermixed in the design. The reverse contains green, brown and turquoise colors.

Banknotes of large denominations were withdrawn from circulation Jan. 5, 1945. They are still exchangeable at the Bank of England, however. The new notes will replace all older issues.

In addition to the five and 10 pound notes, earlier series were issued in the following denominations: 20, 50, 100, 200, 500 and 1,000 pounds.

For the present time no notes higher than 10 pounds will be issued in the new series.

Joe Davis Receives Charter For Texas Numismatic Assn.

Joe B. Davis, president of the newly-organized Texas Numismatic association, received the charter in formal ceremonies conducted at a meeting held in the Hilton hotel, San Antonio, with the San Antonio Coin club as host.

Dolly Maude Harris, of Austin, made the presentation witnessed by 51 members of the new T.N.A.

Other charter officers are: Carlton Brush, vice president, and Augusta Folda, secretary-treasurer.

T.N.A. membership is open to out-of-state numismatists. As of March 31, 348 applications were accepted for charter membership, representing 21 chapters, 31 associate members and nine junior members.

Hopes and aims of the new association include an independent publication: in the meantime the first issue was published by the Austin club with San Antonio's Coin club following with the March edition. Houston will publish in April and Fort Worth in June.

Doris Martin, 5609 Chaucer, Houston, is accepting contributions for the publication.

April and October will be the T.N.A. meeting months with election of officers and annual business to take place in April.

Lewis M. Reagan, general secretary of the American Numismatic association, a special guest at the charter presentation said:

"State organizations provide a means for cities to cooperate with others and are wonderful things in the interest of numismatics."

"Texas has the potentiality of becoming the largest and strongest," Reagan continued as he discussed the 25 state organizations in the United States.

"State conventions should go strong on exhibits to bring more people's interest into the hobby—and above all, to keep fun in the hobby," Reagan urged.

Convention Dates Set By Ill. Club

Members of the Corn Belt Club of Bloomington, Ill., are planning a two day coin convention and auction.

The dates listed for the convention are July 23-24 at the Illinois State Normal University. Activities will be held in the student union building.

There are 90 club members in addition to 15 junior members. The group meets the second Wednesday of each month, 7:30 p.m., in the Y.M.C.A. in Bloomington. There are no meetings in July and August.

Activities of the club include arranging displays for National Coin Week. In January, husbands or wives of members are invited to a banquet and auction.

Officers are elected each December. Present officers are: Thomas B. Davis, Normal, president; Theodore Almy, Normal, vice president; Richard W. Hof-farth, Bloomington, secretary-treasurer.

CSNA Re-elects Herbert Bergen

Herbert M. Bergen, of Fullerton, was re-elected president of the California State Numismatic Association during its four-day conclave at Stockton, Calif., recently.

More than 2,500 people visited exhibits—some from London, England—at convention headquarters in Hotel Stockton, according to Norman F. Pruitt, convention chairman.

Clifford Liss, San Francisco, is vice president; Winn Osborne, Montebello, secretary; Dan Harley, Pomona, treasurer. Pruitt was renamed to the board of directors.

L. G. Lodge of San Francisco won best of the show for his display, "coins my grandpa used." Second place went to Gordon Rammer of Stockton with a paper money exhibit entitled "early American history on currency."

The host club, the Delta Coin Club of Stockton, planned the dinner in the embassy room of the Ambassador motel.

The 26th semi-annual meeting also featured two auctions with the sale of 894 lots of coins and paper money.

Drexler Addresses Joint Club Meeting

"The Care and Feeding of Junior Coin Collectors" was the topic of an address given by Bernard Drexler, of the Tidewater Coin club, as he addressed members and guests at the Virginia Peninsula Coin Club banquet recently.

Drexler's experiences as supervisor of the Norfolk Junior Coin club were highly entertaining and educational, according to the 71 guests.

R. E. Blount was master of ceremonies for the evening and officiated at the installation of the following officers:

President, Bernard Littlepage; vice president, R. G. Bosworth; secretary - treasurer, M. H. Reynolds.

Award placques went to B. D. Littlepage for best in show; C. D. Mitchell, U. S. coins; R. E. Blount, miscellaneous coins; C. D. Mitchell, foreign coins; A. Jordan, U. S. currency; R. Mitchell, junior exhibit.

The 1883 coins of Hawaii bear the denominations in the Hawaiian language: akahi dala, one dollar; hapalua, half dollar; hapaha, quarter dollar; and umikeneta, dime.

Mythical Coins, Romance Cause Mail Fraud Charges

Mythical rare coins, a lonely hearts club and an Italian bride combined caused Philip J. Aubin Jr., 23, Newark, N. J., to be indicted on 13 mail fraud charges.

A self-described, one-time Los Angeles coin dealer, Aubin used his knowledge of mail order coin auction procedure to allegedly swindle $5,350 from clients in Michigan, Iowa, Texas, California and other states.

He used the money to finance his marriage to an Italian girl he met through a lonely hearts club.

Aubin, according to Assistant U. S. Attorney Sidney M. Franzblau, ran a single ad in a coin newspaper last May.

Franzblau said Aubin offered rare coins for sale to the highest bidder.

Everyone who answered the ad was declared the successful bidder by Aubin, who then asked for the money for the coins.

After he collected the $5,350, he flew to Genoa, Italy, to marry his lonely hearts bride. She is lonelier than ever now, according to Attorney Franzblau, who said Aubin left her and returned to the States when his "auction" funds were spent.

Aubin, who has been working as an attendant in a Newark hospital, tried to explain his scheme away with a mythical partner, Isaac Goldstein, as the culprit, according to Franzblau.

Later he admitted to postal authorities Goldstein was another product of his imagination, and he signed a statement admitting the fraud before a grand jury indictment, Franzblau said.

Dixon Jewelers Open Coin Dept.

A new coin and numismatic supply section in the Dixon Jewelers store, Seminole Heights, Tampa, Fla., is attracting collectors of that area.

Management of the new division is in capable hands — Al Moore, a coin collector for 36 years, former secretary of the Bay Cities Coin Club, Santa Monica, Calif., is the new manager.

Moore is a member of the American Numismatic Association.

Gold Coins Stolen At Shennango Show

A card containing seven gold coins was stolen in February from the display of a collector at the Shenango Valley Coin Club Show in Farrell, Pa.

George Dunmire, 4543 Mahoning avenue, Youngstown, O., discovered the coins missing during the exhibit held Feb. 18 in the basement of the Farrell, Pa., Library. He told police seven gold coins, valued at $188 and attached to a card, were taken.

Coin club officials assisted police in the investigation and have asked local people and dealers to be on the lookout for anyone attempting to pass or sell them.

The coins were: four $20 gold pieces, one $5 gold piece and two $1 coins.

The Collectors Club of Boston is celebrating its 15th anniversary. To record this event, the group has issued medals of silver and bronze. The obverse of the collector's item reads "Collectors Club of Boston, 15th Anniversary" around the outer portion of the medal and in the center, "A.N.A. Convention, Boston 1960". The reverse of the medal is a replica of the pine tree shilling. The above drawing is somewhat larger than the medals themselves, which are slightly bigger than a quarter.

Collectors Club Of Boston Celebrates 15th Anniversary

The 15th anniversary of the Collectors Club of Boston was celebrated at a joint session with another Boston club, the Canadian Collectors, April 12 at the Sheraton-Plaza Hotel.

These medals were struck in gold for members, silver and bronze. The silver medals were immediately sold.

On the obverse is "Collectors Club of Boston—15th Anniversary." In the center is A.N.A. Convention, Boston, 1960. The reverse is a replica of the pine tree shilling.

The bronze (nickel-plated) may be purchased by writing to Grace D. Lincoln, secretary, 41 Aquavia road, Medford, 55, Mass., for 50 cents.

Eagle's Appearance On Early Coins Caused Congressional Disorder

Money formed the subject of one of the first quarrels in the Congress of the United States—and the lawmakers have been hurling heated and pointed barbs and darts back and forth ever since!

The belligerent gentlemen of post-Revolutionary days (1790's) reached an agreement concerning the emblems and devices to appear on the silver dollar only after some bitter debate.

A member of the House of Representatives from the South violently opposed the choice of the eagle on the grounds that it was known as the "king" of birds.

"This bird is neither proper nor suitable to represent a nation whose institutions and interests are wholly inimical to monarchical forms of government," spoke the southern gentleman.

"Well, sir, would you consider a goose instead of an eagle?" queried Judge Thatcher in a playful manner. "A goose might possibly suit you. As you know, a goose is a rather humble and republican bird, and would also be serviceable in other respects, as the goslings would answer to place upon the dimes."

Such exchange delighted the congressmen and created considerable merriment.

1795 half eagle

But not to the southern gentleman!

He immediately decided Judge Thatcher's humor was a direct insult. So he challenged the judge to a duel!

The judge promptly declined. The bearer of the challenge asked:

"Will you be branded as a coward?"

"Certainly, if he pleases," replied Judge Thatcher. "I always was one and he knew it, or he would never have risked a challenge."

The joke continued to tickle the solons' funny bones, and at last cordial relations were restored.

One observer said the irritable southerner concluded "there was nothing to be gained in fighting with one who fired nothing but jokes!"

Ferndale, Calif., Club Displays Coins Often

Every August at the Humboldt County fair, you will find a display of stamps and coins. These have been displayed there by the Ferndale Stamp and Hobby Club of Ferndale, Calif.

During National Coin week, you would see displays of coins in local store windows. To balance the club's pride in its interests and collections, the group relaxes at an annual picnic in September, each year — when the fair is over.

There is a numismatic quiz about twice a year and slides about coins are shown from time to time, according to Mrs. Marge Lawton, Ferndale, the club's secretary.

Other officers are: Donald Christensen, president; Larry Lawton, vice president; Mrs. Marge Lawton, secretary; John Lawton, treasurer; and Donald D. Lawton, advisor-director. All are from Ferndale.

Henry VII ordered all coins to be weighed by Troy weight of 16 ounces (5,760 grains) instead of 15 ounces (5,400 grains).

Lecturer 'Has Coins, Will Travel'

Cyrus Phillips, No. 1 Bank of America lecturer and numismatic authority, was the star of the Banning branch, Calif., Bank of America opening recently.

Phillips, who displays rare coins representing 300 years of American coinage, is truly the man of "have coins, will travel!"

His collection is mounted on eight big display boards, and he discusses everything from the pine tree shilling to the $100,000 bill. (The latter currency is NOT in his display—it is used only by banks.)

He speaks to students, service clubs and other such groups as a part of his duties as a Bank of America representative. He joined its staff in 1951; he became its official money lecturer in 1954. He and his wife and their son, Wayne, live at Azusa, Calif. Another son is a banker in Covina.

Phillips started his collection in 1921 as a farm boy who was given two buffalo nickels when he sold iron scraps to a junk man.

Collector's Items Stolen In Racine

A collection of currency, proof and mint sets were taken from the home of Roman Janecy, 2618 Geneva street, Racine, Wis., recently.

Janecy told police his residence was burglarized of collector's items valued at $106 and cash.

Missing were: one proof set, four mint sets, eight $2 bills, one gold back $5 bill and $45 in Canadian currency.

The 1883 Hawaiian dollar bears the denomination in the Hawaiian language...akahi dala.

For Speculators Only

The inevitable has happened. Editor Herb Shaner reports in the April issue of his M.A.N.A. Journal, someone asked him for an interesting way to display rolls. It was bound to happen, and frankly I'm surprised some unthinking person hasn't already tried to display rolls in some convention exhibit.

Mr. Speculator, don't lose your perspective! A tube of coins is not a collector's item. You are only saving coins for some future collector. Then someday he can display the coins—singly as collector's items. He can but you can't. My good friend Walter Breen once said, "The day a display of rolls wins an exhibit award I'll resign from the A.N.A." I agree with him.

There is a lot of activity in rolls today. We even print a page of roll price trends—Jim Kelly's page. We don't endorse all this activity, but we feel we have a news job to do in reporting the trend. Repeat: reporting!

I would like to see one-tenth of the time, effort and money that is currently being spent on rolls and roll amassing, diverted to other fields of collecting interest! There's a big pleasure to be derived from collecting coins—but as collector's items and no as so many thousand uncirculated coins of this year's mintage.

Collector's Items

(Editor's note: The editorial below is a sample of the coin activity in Canada. A growing number of Canadians are becoming coin collectors every day. From the Modern Time, Manitoba, Canada.)

Not everything out of date is valueless, and some items are worth more than their weight in gold.

And in case you can't credit such a statement, take a look at that old twenty-five cent piece or the half dollar you've been carrying around for sentiment's sake. But perhaps you're ahead of us, as so many people are these days, concerning the world's most popular and most sought-after commodity.

The pennies, nickels, dimes, et al., of earlier days have not all gone out of existence—only out of circulation. They've become collectors' items, their rarity enhancing their value almost beyond reason.

Again, if the reader is inclined to regard this with raised eyebrows, he should drop in on any city coin dealer and learn at first hand just what's doing in this particular branch of finance. Have that sentimental piece of silver evaluated: your eyes might pop.

That's about what happened in one western city, a short time back, after a family man discovered an American silver dollar almost 100 years old in a piggy bank. Its value had increased some 1,500 times. Canadian silver dollars of even 20 years ago are today worth many times their original value.

"Coin collectors (we don't mean misers or parking meters) have existed for years. Originally they were wealthy people whose pastime it was to gather specimens of money from year to year, or rare stamps, or post office cancellation marks; only in recent times has it become popular to garner crops of old coins.

There's a catch, of course: the coins, to be of value, must be in good condition and show little or no wear. It's a bit of a trick to find copper, silver or gold pieces of venerable age that haven't been somewhat marred by constant of careless handling, but at the same time such items come to light in the most unlikely places.

In the meantime, take another look at that bit of silver you've been hanging onto, sentimentally.

You might be wealthier than you thought.

San Bernardino Club Plans Youth Night

The San Bernardino County Coin Club is making plans for its annual "youth night" which is held every June. The club is also busy in January with its annual banquet and in late April with its coin display at the National Orange Show.

Every third Thursday at 7:30 p.m., the group meets at the Women's Club at Rialto, Calif. There are 150 regular members plus 20 junior members.

Officers are: Charles Colver, Glendora, president; Dan Harley, Pomona, vice president; Sylvia No-vack, recording secretary; Herb Feinberg, San Bernardino, treasurer; and Bryan Burke, San Bernardino, program chairman.

In 1932, the New Orleans mint building was converted into a federal prison to relieve Atlanta and Leavenworth.

TELL 'EM W-E-E-K-L-Y TO SELL 'EM!

COIN WORLD brings a modern concept to numismatic dealer advertising: talking to your customers weekly! This means a shorter time for sales action because all advertising copy received in our office as late as Monday noon is guaranteed an appearance in the issue carrying the deadline for Thursday of the following week. We are not responsible for non-delivery of your copy by poor mail service so do not "crowd" this deadline! Air Mail on any Friday from any point in U.S. should reach our P.O. Box 150 in Sidney, Ohio, before noon on any Monday.

By signing up for weekly ads, it means the dealer lowers the total cost of his advertising. A "rate holder" ad as small as one inch, appearing every Thursday, guarantees each dealer the low cost, 52-week contract rate for his various sized advertisements as shown below.

FOR ONLY $1.40 PER WEEK You Can Buy A 52 WEEKS 1-Inch Ad For A YEAR!
BY SIGNING A COIN WORLD ADVERTISING CONTRACT

Already we have a growing number of discriminating coin dealers, who want more for their advertising dollar. They have signed Coin World Advertising Contracts for frequency insertions. Any dealer or supplier using a minimum one-inch Classified Display Advertisement EVERY WEEK for 52 consecutive weeks earns the lowest possible rate for any size display advertisement he wishes to insert at any time during that contract period.

Over 100 Advertising Contracts have already been signed by dealers with Coin World. Many of the original 13-week and 26-week frequency contract holders have already switched to a 52-week frequency contract as they realize the importance of keeping their name and specialty before their buying public EVERY WEEK at such low cost! Write for an Advertising Contract and complete details on the Rate Card which is briefly explained below.

"I'VE GOT NO CHANGE, HAVEN'T YOU ANYTHING SMALLER?"

Proof sets went on sale July 17, 1960, after a period of eight years of not issuing them. The announce-

Silver Coinage Increase May Account For Supply Shrinkage

Increase in silver coinage accounts for shrinkage of the world's supply of silver, according to a recent story in the Wall Street Journal.

Silver traders, in fact, see the possibility of a serious supply squeeze within the near future.

In the past 10 years the world has used 20 per cent more silver than it produced, drawing instead upon silver reserves.

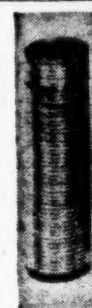

But the demand still continues! Nations, including France and Italy, have resumed minting silver coins.

Industry is calling upon silver for such uses as electrical connections, etc.

A mine strike of several months' duration last summer curtailed U. S. silver supplies. Industrial users turned to treasury stocks during that period, but now buyers rely on commercial suppliers again.

Nearly every mine in the world is now operating close to capacity — most silver is a by-product of copper, lead and zinc mining.

Letters To The Editor

Varying comments have been received by Coin World editorial offices on the Volume I, Number 1 issue of April 21st. We are sharing some of these comments, both favorable and unfavorable, with our readers:

HEART OF AMERICA NUMISMATIC ASSOCIATION WANTS TO CONGRATULATE YOU AND WISH YOU THE BEST IN COIN WORLD AS IT IS TOPS. WE ARE PREPARED TO WATCH THE GROWING PAINS!

JIM SMITH, SEC.
KANSAS CITY, MO.

Talk about results! I haven't yet received my first edition and have nearly $100 order from it. I did not think it would be out until the 21st. Tonight I got an order for $90 by long distance telephone. I am satisfied. The first ad has paid for itself.

R. R. Bennighof
Ashland, Ohio

I sure like the set-up of Coin World. "Trends of today's coin values" is more than my $3 can buy anywhere. You have one of the best in the coin business to edit it, namely Jim Kelly.

J. L. Massetti
Ardmore, Pa.

I was more than a little pleased to read your enlightening coin trends section. I fully agree with you that such coins as the 1950-D nickel is much overpriced and should go down. I also agree with most of your other trends forecasts. Much success to Coin World.

Earl Schill
Detroit, Mich.

I have received your No. 1 copy and am very well pleased. I subscribe to all the major numismatic publications and must say that if the future issues are as newsy as the first, you are leading the field in something numismatically to read.

The name of Sidney, Ohio, has quite a meaning to me and my family. My great-grandfather bought and sold a good part of the townsite and willed the income from his farm to the public schools for 99 years.

F. E. Covill,
McCamey, Texas

Enjoyed your paper very much. Keep up the good work. I certainly enjoyed the news stories along with the classified. Herman Glisson
Guymon, Okla.

We have just received the first copy of Coin World and like it very much. With your editorship, it should be a great success. Empire Coin Co.
Johnson City, N. Y.

Since it takes any new publication awhile to settle down, there's not much point to commenting on the first issue. Looks like a good advertising start as well as circulation. Editorially—well, I didn't get any goose pimples from page one and the issue as a whole was a big let down from the prospectus issue. That was bright, newsy, etc., and promised a lot more than the elephant's delivery. But I'm sure it will come around.

John M. Willem
New York, N. Y.

Please omit ad on U.S. rolls as I am all sold out. This little ad brought results more than I hoped for. Congratulations for a fine Coin World.

Wm. L. Wieser
Cleveland, O.

A terrific paper! May I suggest an article on the mint errors. I have never heard of some of the ones in the ads. Have you seen the 1943 penny with the "4" missing? I have found several. Mrs. James Purdy
East Syracuse, N. Y.

I am just a little jealous of you. I have collected stamps and coins for the past 35 years. I am a printer by trade and at one time had visions of putting out a paper featuring both stamps and coins but it takes "green stuff" and I just never got to it. Good luck on your new venture.

James Bachman
Rochester, N. Y.

You have achieved in your Coin World what every coin collector has ever wanted: 1) a weekly paper; 2) high in quality; 3) low in cost!

George R. Hagerty
Glenolden, Pa.

I note that you have the editorial blessing of George Linn. I would expect that you will follow your own editorial policy but there is much to recommend what George's policy of aiming his editorial comments at the undesirable practices of certain collectors, dealers, auctioneers, wholesalers and the government. His editorial column is the best thing in Linn's Weekly Stamp News.

Carl Westmark, M.D.
Oak Park, Ill.

Please kill the two ads listed in U.S. General as I do not have enough varieties left to fill orders for same. Please run the enclosed ad against the credit due me.

Samuel Torn
Newport News, Va.

You have surely solved the coin market's big problem. We as dealers and collectors have been sorely in need of a weekly coin market. In this time of fast rising coin prices, one can hardly tell from day to day what a coin is worth.

Richard F. Cole
San Diego, Calif.

I try you out. Run the enclosed ad twice. I have purchased 1000 words classified advertising in a stamp magazine to sell coins and medals so I hope you may fill a need.

Roger Newberry
Victoria, B. C.

Wish you success. One of the features I would like is a brief review of prices at various coin auction sales.

C. W. Milbourn
Wilmington, Del.

Acids Cause Patina On Buried Ancient Coin

Ancient coins that have been buried are sometimes covered with a bluish or greenish film. This film is called patina and forms on copper or bronze when exposed to certain acids.

Authorities think volcanic soil may have increased this chemical reaction.

Liberty Bell Club Displays Coins, Currency

Coins and currency of 10 countries of the world were on display until April 30 at the Bulletin building, 30th and Market streets, Philadelphia, as the Liberty Bell Coin Club's contribution to National Coin Week.

A history of each coin was included in the exhibit of both present-day coins and those used thousands of years ago.

Members of the Liberty Bell club were on hand throughout the exhibition to explain and discuss the display, according to Samuel Burgdorf, president of the club.

Financial and educational benefits of coin collecting were to be emphasized by the club to emphasize the theme of National Coin Week—"Why it pays to be a numismatist."

Module means the same as diameter in describing coins.

Trends Of Today's Coin Values

Proof Sets Show Narrowing Range

Edited By Jim Kelly
333 West First St., Dayton 2, O.

We appreciate the many letters and phone calls in regard to our coverage of market trends. But quite surprising and slightly disturbing is the fact that practically all of these were complimentary. No one can edit a Trends Department such as this and expect perfection which, even if attained, would not please everyone.

If you think we are doing a good job, by all means let us know. On the other hand, do not hesitate to point out what you consider mistakes, or anything you don't like about this feature of Coin World.

This Trends Department is conducted to give up-to-date price information that will be informative and helpful to both collectors and dealers. Since rolls, proof sets and uncirculated coins after 1934 are the most active and subject to the greatest price changes, we have started by listing these. Other series can and will be included if there is enough demand for them. This is your department and will be patterned according to your dictates.

Just as a reminder, and to correct some misunderstandings evidenced by a few letters — these prices do not indicate a "buy" and "sell" list. It is the price range at which these coins are actually selling. We have arrived at these figures by researching the advertisements in all numismatic publications, plus personal contact and our own experience.

Dealers' buying prices would be lower in proportion to their percentage of mark-up. Market Trends is a reporting service whose only interest is to furnish up-to-minute market valuations.

Proof Sets — These continue to be quite active as expected. In my opinion the most interesting and healthy sign was not in the small advance in price but in the narrow range between high and low prices at which these were offered.

This standardization, particularly noticeable in the earlier sets 1936 to 1953, seems to indicate lower inventories among the dealers. Previously many of these were offered at low prices due to a surplus stock and lack of demand. The earlier sets are still far below their peak price reached in September of 1956.

On the eve of determining the press run for Volume 1, Number 3 issue of Coin World, we are deeply appreciative of the above total paid subscriptions from collectors and dealers which have been received and processed by our Subscription Department since we made the first announcement 60 days ago by means of our sample edition of Coin World.

Each mail brings new Charter Subscribers to keep this total figure mounting and mounting. Suggestions and comments have been most gratifying. You'll find more and more interesting features with EACH WEEK'S edition of Coin World. You'll want to get all the latest data and information about coins as fast as possible . . . and WEEKLY Coin World is the fastest!

We are sorry that Charter Subscription orders received after April 15, 1960, can not be guaranteed to get a copy of Volume 1, Number 1 issue of Coin World. We made a press run of over 13,000 copies which went to our paid subscribers plus a list of collectors for sampling. If you happened to get a duplicate copy of the first issue, please pass it on to a friend who is interested as we are using lists of names given to us from many sources.

GIVE A FRIEND A FREE GIFT SUBSCRIPTION!

To encourage a wider interest in numismatics and to add to our appreciation for you becoming a Charter Subscriber we will give a six-months FREE subscription to a non-subscriber friend when you send in your Charter Subscription of $3.00 for 52 weeks in U.S.; $3.50 in Canada; or $5.00 for foreign! Willem, John M.: "The United States Trade Dollar - America's Only Unborned, Unwanted Coin." A fascinating history of the use of silver coinage in world trade, and why the United States, in the bonanza silver period of the 1870s, minted a special silver dollar actually called the Trade Dollar. Intended for use in the Orient, it was, for a time, legal tender in the United States and a hot political issue until 1897. Fully illus-for historian, economist and numismatist.

THE LIBRARY OF COINS

Complete visibility and complete protection, the two most-wanted features of a coin album, are presented for the first time by THE LIBRARY OF COINS. Bound like books, handsome and compact, each Library of Coins volume displays and protects its coins between two sliding panels of clear, tough plastic. Each coin "porthole" has printed next to it full data on mint mark and quantity minted. Each volume contains a brief background story on the coins, giving both the novice and advanced collector helpful information, including a listing of the rare dates.

Measuring 8 1/4" x 6 1/4", the volumes are low priced, sturdily manufactured, and permanently bound in a variety of identifying colors for the various denominations. Their compact size permits the storing of a large coin collection in very small space. Backbones are clearly gold stamped so that they are as readily identifiable as are books.

The Library of Coins represents the first major innovation in high grade coin albums in more than 30 years, and was several years in development. Designed by numismatists, the Library of Coins is designed to satisfy the needs and desires of numismatists. Write for descriptive circular on the Library of Coins.
